parties likely will agree on this issue. We acknowledge that each defendant may decide to dispute such expenses in any given case, and will deal with those disputes accordingly. However, given the likelihood of such agreements and to the extent necessary, plaintiffs shall not be obligated to file such expert reports until after dispositive motions have been adjudicated or suggestions for remand have been filed.

11. Responses to requests for documents and other paper discovery must be served in accordance with the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, unless subject to a written agreement by the parties.
12. Depositions and certain discovery are to be governed by the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, as modified by the August 4, 2011 Deposition Protocol (amended on April 2, 2012) (08-90330 Doc. 13. The role of defense liaison counsel will be to coordinate communications between the defense and the Court and to work with plaintiffs' counsel to come to agreement on broad issues. 14. A settlement conference, with client representatives to be in attendance in person, shall take place at such time as the Court, upon the recommendations of the parties or otherwise, deems appropriate.
